Definitions

Allowances and other transitional support:

Allowances and other transitional supports are provided by Children’s Aid Societies (sometimes referred to as Child and Family Service Agencies) in Ontario to youth leaving care. The supports are currently provided through the Ready, Set, Go program (formerly Continued Care and Support for Youth).

American Sign Language (ASL):

Manual language with its own syntax and grammar, used primarily by people who are deaf.

Bankruptcy or related event:

If you initiated a bankruptcy or a related event, this means you have filed for bankruptcy under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (Canada) (BIA), made a consumer proposal under the BIA that is approved or deemed to be approved by a court under that Act, obtained a consolidation order under the BIA or filed a document seeking relief for the orderly payment of debts.

Children’s Aid Society or Child and Family Services Agency:

Children’s Aid Societies in Ontario (sometimes referred to as Child and Family Services agencies) as well as similar agencies or government departments in other provinces/territories (such as, child protection services, child welfare) have legal authority to protect children from abuse and neglect.

A child who is in the custody and care of a Children’s Aid Society (or Child and Family Services agency) has been removed from a home where they faced either a risk of harm or experienced harm. Children who are taken into care may be placed with other family members, family friends, foster homes or group homes, or may be adopted.

Common-law relationship:

You are living in a common-law relationship if you and your spouse:

- will have lived together in a spousal relationship continuously for a period of at least three years as of your first day of classes, or
- have lived together in a spousal relationship of some permanence and are the natural or adoptive parents of a child.

Course load:

Your school determines the number of courses or credits that make up a full course load (100% course load). Your course load refers to the number of courses or credits you are taking.

For OSAP purposes, you're in full-time studies if you're taking 60% or more of a full course load. If you have a permanent disability or a persistent or prolonged disability, you may choose to be considered a full-time student if you're taking at least 40% of a full course load. Contact your financial aid office if you need help determining your course load percentage.

Current citizenship:

Canadian Citizen: A Canadian citizen is a person who is Canadian by birth or who has applied for Canadian citizenship through Citizenship and Immigration Canada and has received a citizenship certificate. You are probably a Canadian citizen if you were born in Canada. You may also be a Canadian citizen if you were born outside Canada to a Canadian parent.

Permanent Resident: A permanent resident is someone who is not a Canadian citizen but has the right to enter and remain in Canada. Permanent residents are citizens of other countries. A permanent resident must live in Canada for two years of every five years or risk losing their permanent resident status. A Record of Landing form (issued prior to 2002), Confirmation of Permanent Residence form, and Permanent Resident Card all provide official proof of status of permanent residency in Canada.

Protected Person: Protected Persons are individuals who hold a valid Verification of Status document issued by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada or a valid Protected Persons Status Document issued prior to January 1, 2013. A decision letter ("Notice of Decision") from the Immigration and Refugee Board (IRB) is also a valid form of identification. Protected Persons can include convention refugees, humanitarian-protected persons abroad, and persons in need of protection. A person in need of protection is a person in Canada whose removal to their country of nationality or former habitual residence will make them subject to the possibility of torture, risk of life, or risk of cruel and unusual treatment or punishment.

A Protected Person is defined in subsection 95(2) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (Canada).

Customary care:

Customary care is a culturally appropriate placement option for First Nations, Inuk, and Métis children and youth determined to be in need of protection who cannot remain in the care of their parents.

In customary care arrangements, the child or youth is cared for by a person who is not the child's parent, according to the customs of the child's band or First Nations, Inuit or Métis community.

Customary care arrangements are supervised pursuant to a customary care agreement between a children's aid society and the child or youth's band or First Nations, Inuit, or Métis community.

Dependent children:

A dependent child is your and/or your spouse's natural or adoptive child who is living with you at least 50% of the time during your study period and is:

- under 18 years of age; or
- 18 years of age or older, single; and
  - is enrolled in high school and taking at least 60% of a full course load; or
  - is a full-time college or university student and has been out of high school less than six years (if the child moved away to go to school, you must be the parent(s) that the child last lived with); or
  - has a disability and is wholly dependent on you.

If the child has worked full-time at paid employment for 24 months in a row when they were not a full-time high school, college or university student the child is not considered a dependent child.

To be wholly dependent, a child over the age of 18 must meet all of the following conditions:

- The child is single and lives with the student;
- The child is, by reason of a mental or physical disability, dependent on others for their personal needs and care; and
- The child is claimed by the student or spouse for tax purposes and Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) has accepted the child as being wholly dependent upon the student for tax purposes.

Disability statuses: Permanent disability:

A permanent disability means any impairment, including a physical, mental, intellectual, cognitive, learning, communication or sensory impairment—or a functional limitation—that:

- restricts your ability to perform the daily activities necessary to pursue studies at a postsecondary school level or to participate in the labour force, and
- is expected to remain with you for your expected life.

If you self-identify as a student with a disability, but your disability is not permanent (see definition above), then select “No” to the question “Is your disability permanent?”.

Persistent or prolonged disability:

A persistent or prolonged disability means any impairment, including a physical, mental, intellectual, cognitive, learning, communication or sensory impairment—or a functional limitation—that:

- restricts your ability to perform the daily activities necessary to pursue studies at a postsecondary school level or to participate in the labour force, and
- has lasted, or is expected to last, for a period of at least 12 months, but
- is not expected to remain with you for your expected life.

Discharged or fully performed bankruptcy-related event:

- Bankruptcy: your bankruptcy (or related event) has been discharged if you have completed the conditions outlined in your bankruptcy assignment or order and you have been issued a certificate of discharge by your trustee.

An RRSP is a retirement savings plan that you establish, and is registered by the Government of Canada, to which you, your spouse or common-law partner contribute. Deductible RRSP contributions can be used to reduce an individual's tax. Any income you earn in the RRSP is usually exempt from tax as long as the funds remain in the plan; you generally have to pay tax when you receive payments from the plan.

Net value of RRSP:

The total net value of RRSPs is the current market value (principal and interest) of all RRSP accounts, including the value of a Home Buyers' Plan (if applicable) and any Lifelong Learning Plan withdrawals you have made or plan to make for your study period less:
