BIOMETRICS SPECIFICATION FOR STUDY PERMIT EXTENSION AND CO-OP WORK PERMIT APPLICATION WITHIN CANADA IN ORDINARY TIMES

Have you done Biometrics in the last 10 years?

- YES: you don't need to do again Biometrics when apply for study permit extension and co-op work permit.
- NO: you need to do Biometrics!

If you need to do Biometrics, IRCC will send you a Biometric Collection Letter in your IRCC secure account, after you've paid the government fees and submitted your request.

Biometrics are requested specifically by IRCC, meaning that applicants must receive the "Biometrics Collection letter" before doing it. Biometrics consists of collecting fingerprints + picture by IRCC officers.

Don't forget to pay the related Biometrics government fee along with the permit government fee!

E.g.:

Study Permit Extension + Co-op work permit fee: CAD 150.00 + Biometrics fee is CAD 85.00
Co-op Work permit fees is CAD 0.00 + Biometrics fee is CAD 85.00 (in case you apply only for Co-op work permit and you have to do Biometrics => CAD 85.00 to pay).

IMPORTANT: BIOMETRICS EXEMPTION IN CANADA – TEMPORARY MEASURE INTRODUCED ON JULY 15TH, 2020 DUE TO COVID-19

On July 15th, 2020 IRCC has announced as a temporary measure that you're exempt from giving biometrics if you're applying from within Canada:

- to extend your stay as a student, worker or visitor
- to restore your status as a student, worker or visitor
- for a work or study permit
- for a visitor visa
- for a temporary resident permit

This applies to all new applications as well as applications already in progress. This temporary measure does not apply if you're outside Canada.

Biometrics fee

You do not have to pay the biometric fee when you submit your application, even if the system tells you to pay it.

If you paid the fee, IRCC will automatically refund the fee once they finalize your application and the online application system will automatically send you a biometric instruction letter (BIL) telling you how to give your biometrics

You do not need to give biometrics, and you can ignore this letter.
